We walked to the venue from Churchgate station looking at the heritage buildings. It was a sort of heritage walk. The multi-cultural celebration has evolved into the largest street festival – with no admission fees, this really motivated student to visit and attend the workshop at CSMVS. Stories about some real change makers by 'The Creative World' at CSMVS was the program with puppetry show and resource person captured the attention of the audience. It was at the CSMVS Main Lawn.

After attending the workshop, we proceeded to the main Kala Ghoda Fest location. The festival had drawn enormous crowds from all around the country. The horse installation was the main attraction which was a symbolic representation of courage and freedom. Students were really enthralled by the common man riding horse at Kalaghoda.

It offered an opportunity to broaden their horizon, talk and celebrate. The display of arts, crafts and creativity on streets of Mumbai was mesmerizing. They interacted with people from Afghanistan who had opened a stall and displayed the products from their culture. Even they interacted with entrepreneurs from other states of our country and checked out their products with keen interest.

After this we visited Cooperage Bandstand Garden where the farmer's market where indigenous farmers had displayed their products, performing live on music.

COLLEGE LIBRARY REPORT

With a remarkable collection of more than 52000 books, journals, and e-resources, the college's library is excellent and well-equipped. Every year, new editions are added to expand its collection. All new students get a library orientation at the start of the academic year to assist them in making the most of the library's resources. The library offers a set of textbooks from its book bank scheme to financially disadvantaged B.Com students for an entire academic year. 105 students have used the service this academic year. The College Library has institutional membership of Bombay Management Association, IMC Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and Dosti House (American Library).

Library Activities

Testimonial from Alumni

I have personally benefited immensely from our library from 1973 to 1981 during my years as a student and a professor.

I found unique books in the MMK library that had a wealth of information that really got my curiosity ignited and widened my perspectives and knowledge in the offbeat subjects. I owe my transformation from being a young and naughty student to a serious and dedicated one leading to University Ranks at BCom, MCom and MPhil Level to the library!

I would urge all students to make it a regular habit to visit the library and read!

Why?

Why do I have Anxiety ?

Why do I have to go through this curse ?

Why do I have to go through this pain ?

Why do I have to go through this suffering?

Why do I have to be nervous all the time ?

Why do I have this pressure in my chest ?

Why does my hands shake all the time ?

Why do I have to feel that everything I do is waste ?

Why do I have to panic in a room full of people ?

Why do I have to feel that I'm not worthy and no one likes me ?

Why do I have to feel like people around me are just there for their own reason and ain't for me ?

Why do I feel everyone hates me and doesn't like to keep me around ?

Why do I feel if I don't start the conversation and talk, they won't even care to ask about me ?

Why do I feel no one cares for me ?

Why do I feel that person that cares for me doesn't stay around or meet or even talk to me ? Like I'm just a mess ?

Why do I feel like I'm gonna lose the few people around me and I'm just gonna be all alone ?

Why do I feel like I don't deserve to be love by someone ?

Why do I feel like I don't deserve to be friends with anyone let alone being loved ?

Why do I feel like I'm a problem for everyone ?

Why do I have to cry all the time ?

Why can't I have someone who can just hug me tightly and say it's Alright I'm there ?

Why don't I deserve it ?

Why don't I deserve Peace ?

Why do I feel like a Failure ?

Why do I feel like just to end it all at once and be done ?

Why do I have to feel all this ?

WHY ME ?

WHY ?

THE HEALING POWER OF MUSIC

It is correctly said, "Music is Moonlight in the Gloomy Night of Life". Everybody is well aware of music. Music is a pleasant flow of sounds in the air, which changes with rhythm and systematic method. It is the skill or art that a musician possesses and gives a musical performance for the audience.

Whenever we listen to the music of our taste, it resonates deep inside us. Certain melodies spark our well-being, creativity, and sense of adventure. When we feel anxious or are having a bad day, a melody or lyric can soothe and revive us. Some students have even testified that they remember song lyrics better than their subjective answers. The power of music is exceptional, it is a friend who not only energizes, but also consoles.

People are enamored with music. It touches our souls in profound ways that words alone cannot equal. It is often said, "Where words fail, music speaks". It stirs our imagination, invigorates our bodies, and transforms our moods. It can fill us up or overwhelm us with emotion.

A good beat can get us moving, and a soothing instrumental melody can help us fall asleep. Music also helps to enhance one's memory. It helps doctors and psychologists a lot to treat their patients, by calming the patient's state of mind and behaviors. Music therapy is in fact an excellent way of treating different psychological issues like depression and anxiety. It is widely recognized by researchers and practitioners.

If you want to heal stress irrespective of whatever age you are, music is the key. Music is highly effective as well as supportive to relieve the pains of a person. The pain can be mental or physical, but music heals all. In conclusion, music is a gift of God, and if an individual has mastery over the skill of music, they have a gift to cherish forever. We must always express our appreciation to those musicians, who with their beautiful melodies, support our low times and help us to celebrate in our good times.

NOTHING IS PERMANENT

No one can keep smiling,
Nor can they keep frowning,
Everything happens for a reason,
No reason lasts a season.

It's just for a day or two,
Things that are frustrating you,
You just have to follow your dream,
Ignore the world if it screams.

Everything will be alright,
You just have to stand and fight,
'cos nothing is more important,
Than your own expectations.
You know you have to reach that height, And it won't happen in one night.

So not good or bad nor happy or sad,
Good things will happen and people will be mad,
Jealous they'll be for your cup of tea,
When you show them, what you always wanted to be.

2) One Step Up

Science, Commerce or Arts,
We all chose different streams,
Kept playing our parts,
With respect to our themes.

Old hosts were weakened,
New one's weren't strong,
Many incidents happened,
We knew somethings were wrong.

A step towards adulthood,
All the difference it has made,
One away from childhood,
Made all our memories fade.

None of us were ready,
But we went with the flow,
Keeping our thoughts steady,
Now we are ready to grow.

A LIGHT MORE BRIGHT

Latika Handekar

Sometimes i get lost in thought-what do i bring to this grand table?
With all the tastes and flavours brought from all kinds of different people.

Sometimes, i think -
what is the quality that makes me unique?
Or am i just the bland rice in this world cuisine?
Do i have embellishments that make me shine?
Or should i just take a step back and resign?
Resign from this duty of trying to be the best,
Resign from trying to outshine the rest.

They say the color white depicts purity and innocence
But have they ever thought about how it may feel?
standing in a set with fellow colors feeling useless.

They see the peacock dancing in all its glory in the rain
But they cease to notice the tears that might flow through his eyes
And how the thought of not being able to fly as high as his fellow companions, might cause him pain.

The result of all this thinking that i do always ends with the realization that,
Though even if i am not filled with tastes and flavours- i'll try to balance the flavor,
Though even if i am the bland rice- i do complete the meal,
Though even if i take a step back- i won't forget to rise,
Though even if i am the color white- i'll bring peace to your eyes,
Though even if i'm the peacock - i'll still be the symbol of grace,
Though even if i am pressed down by my competitors i won't forget to jump back,
And shower this world in my personal light
To help it shine a little more bright.

AMBITIONS AND SUNSETS

Latika Handekar

While watching the sun go back to the other side of the globe,
All I can think about are my ambitions-
To be as bright as the sunset, while still being soothing on the eyes,
All I can think about is how just like the sun,
I too wanna rise after facing all of these problems,
Rise to the top after hitting rock bottom.

I think about how I want to go to the limeway places
Where I can see the light shine,
I wanna behold the beauty that the sky displays
When the beauty of the sunnys and moonlight combine.
I think about how I want to go to the other side of the sea,
Breaking all the horizons that society has set for me.
I think about how I want to cross that border staying true to my self,
And I think about how i wanna be like the waves that tackle everything in their path.

I think about how I want to be like the sky that takes the heat and cold as per the time state,
And i want to be like the rocks that show their strength as and when the situation dictates,
I want to be like the ships that find their way even after being stranded,
And like the wind that carries people's stories like a gift.

I think about how I want in balance being a bit dumb and a bit firm,
How I want to be a bit strong with a slight emotional span,
I want to be like the airplane and fly to the other side,
And return back in time to where my family resides,
I want to be like the water absorb everything with strength,
And be as fluid as it is while being as refreshing as rain.

I think I just want to be like anything and everything that compares to the sunset,
'cause that alone makes it special in itself,
And absorbing these qualities would just add to the special that I want to create for myself!
